we just finished a small update to the build pipeline, and the first of them introduces a few new features to the game. it turns out that the more we get, the more we want! for the first time in the history of the lumberhill project, we decided to not just add a new feature, but also release a small patch to upgrade all the files to the new format. this way, you will be able to enjoy the new content right after the game is released. the second one implements a small fix to an issue that was brought up by a user - stuff that was hidden from the ui sometimes appeared as checkpoints when entering a new screen, and things that were set on respawn had a strange bounce effect. when we realised that we were treating the reset thing like a puzzle we decided to just fix it and not come up with a new approach to fix it, just do what was already there and flip the switch from "reset" to "respawn" on the respawn action. on the other hand, streaming is still a rough terrain for us. we did a lot of things wrong, and it took us some time to get a proper look at what needed to be done, while still sticking to the basics. but once we got a feel for it, and with lots of help from our long-time partners over at frima studio, we were able to create a streamlined streaming setup that allows us to stream at a good quality, while also providing a smooth and enjoyable experience for our viewers. we are very open about our streaming setup, and even some of the comments we receive in our discord channel and on youtube show that people appreciate the transparency. astropacks is the leading online digital distribution platform for games, ebooks, movies, tv, anime and application software. on astropacks.com you can download everything for pc, mac, android and ios devices and tablets. all downloads are safe, secure and 100% virus free. astropacks does not contain any form of malware, spyware or adware and is not associated in any way with the copyright protection services using the entries on this 05e1106874 nicowap the new ui is now available for download. in the new ui, you will find the following new features: filter by clearing filter by friend leveling filter by recent changes in game filter by issue reported map selection widget ability to access category of campaign or normal game ability to view notes on campaign ability to view save data on campaign ability to view save data on normal game ability to play campaign offline the new levels also add more enemies and an additional hazard: the wild boar. like any animal, theyre just trying to survive and thrive, and the more theyre around, the harder theyll work to get your tree cutting and harvest business. with three types of zombies and less zombies, it gets less intense. thankfully, the light-hearted comedy of the first stage makes up for it. with the new campaign being released so quickly after the new playability update, most people assumed the death system wasnt fixed. the developers responded by saying it wasnt quite fixed. however, theyve since fixed the death system and it works well again. latest news death system fix early models of the ps4 had a bug in their death system, causing downed players to kill themselves instead of going into a death animation. some time ago, we encountered the same issue with xbox one players. with the release of the new campaign, we found out the bug in the death system is still around. it's reported to us and we are making sure to fix it. hopefully, this issue will get fixed soon so you can forget about having to reload game before actually getting to play! 5ec8ef588b
