The new engine also introduces a raft of new features to players, with more than 700 new animations as well as improvements to existing animations. New Champions The 2016 FIFA World Cup in Brazil inspired a new host of FIFA Champions. Real Madrid, Spain's La Liga champions and Champions League winners in 2015-2016, will become the FIFA Champions. FIFA Champions will represent a new look, with a distinctive Champions League design, more authentic player appearances and a new logo inspired by the World Cup Brazil 2016 logo. You can see more in the new Champions section here: FIFA Champions. And, we're excited to see some of our favourite player names move into this new weight class, with 6'4" Michael Owen, who scored five goals in the last World Cup, having his name moved up from the Special weight class where he played last year. New UEFA Champions This year also sees the introduction of the UEFA Champions League winners, the Hungarian Football Federation. They will be the new Champions of Europe. The UEFA Champions League is the pinnacle of club football in Europe, with teams from 27 nations competing in the competition. This is the 10th year of the tournament's existence, and there are 32 teams this year, after 41 teams returned from the previous edition. UEFA Champions League winners Bayern Munich, who were Euro 2016 champions, will be representing Europe. New FIFA Ultimate Team Roster The Ultimate Team roster has been improved with the introduction of this year's FIFA. New career goals, more matchday goals, more new rarities and new Ultimate Rewards. New Career Goals When a player scores a matchday goal, the player will now be able to unlock a new 'Career Goal' (GC). We've introduced a total of 69 new ones in this year's FIFA. Matchday Goals There are three new matchday goals in FIFA 22. New Rarities There are a number of new rarities coming to FIFA 22, including the seventh shirt number in the history of the game, as well as a number of iconic player names being granted their own unique rare customisation option. New Ultimate Rewards FIFA Ultimate Team has been improved with new more exclusive rewards and in-game events including the Coin Toss, the new Wall Cloth and the new Beach Toss. There is also a new 'Friendly Toss' for the hundreds of millions of player interactions. FIFA has also become a top licensed football game franchise with more than 150 different national teams around the world. The game is also widely available for all major videogame consoles, where it has been playable since the launch of the original PlayStation, and is among the top 10 best-selling games on the PlayStation Network and Xbox Live Arcade. How does FIFA work? FIFA is played using the latest official football rules, which have evolved since the game's inception nearly 25 years ago. The game features the deepest football engine with over 200 authentic human and artificial intelligence (AI) players. Full squad management for every team, including all relevant playing stats (e.g. number of appearances), as well as a virtual personal coach and director of football, allow the player to manage their team as if they're part of the team themselves. The new Advanced Ball Physics system provides the realism of real-life football and players react dynamically as they hit the ball. New Touch Control makes controlling every aspect of the game easier than ever before. Improved Tactical AI means that teams react to changes in the game situations as if they're in a real match. The new Goalkeeper AI gives a real feeling of the pressure of being the last line of defence in the most challenging scenarios. Breathtakingly realistic TV Presentation keeps players entertained with all the emotion and drama of the game. What sets it apart from other football games? The FIFA team puts a heavy emphasis on training and preparation, producing the very best-in-class gameplay. This includes new team and individual play, realistic player animation and ground controls, intelligent intelligent defensive systems, goalkeepers, improved AI behaviours, stadiums, and an authentic crowd, all working together to deliver the very best gameplay available. What makes the game truly authentic? The FIFA team puts a heavy emphasis on training and preparation, producing the very best-in- bc9d6d6daa
