Let it all. Craxtio-v3 O V4 full version1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a connector assembly, and more particularly to an electrical connector assembly having a connection member with a plurality of stamping parts to be formed by stamping and a method for making the same. 2. Description of Prior Arts Electrical connector assemblies are widely used in electronic devices such as notebook computers. A conventional electrical connector assembly comprises a pair of mating connectors. A conventional electrical connector assembly is disclosed in U.S. Pat. No. 5,928,324. The connector assembly comprises an electrical connector and a receptacle connector coupled with the electrical connector. The electrical connector includes a base and an insulative housing mounted on the base. A plurality of contacts is received in the insulative housing. Each of the contacts has a mating portion and a tail portion extending from one end of the mating portion. The tail portion of each contact is provided with a pin extending toward an end of the insulative housing. The mating portion of each contact is formed by pressing. The pin of the tail portion of each contact is spaced from the insulative housing. Each tail portion of the contact and the corresponding pin of the base are exposed from the insulative housing to be contacting with a corresponding mating pin of the receptacle connector. In such an electrical connector assembly, it is desirable to increase the number of the contacts to enhance the electrical performance of the electrical connector assembly.
